

DAWES RULES IN FAVOR OF REED PROBERS

Vice President Holds Slush Investigators of Senate Retain Powers Despite Adjournment.

APPOINTS FESS IN GOFF'S PLACE

Cites Supreme Court Decision in Daugherty Investigation To Support His Stand.

Chicago, April 7.—(United News.) Holding that the senatorial slush fund committee still is in the possession of the powers it had before adjournment of congress, Vice President Dawes has appointed Senator Simon D. Fess, of Ohio, to take the place on that committee of Senator Guy D. Goff, of West Virginia, who resigned.

In making the appointment, the vice president said that the United States supreme court, in another case, had conclusively disposed of the question—that of the continuing life of the committee—in the affirmative.

Dawes' Statement.

Dawes' statement said: "In connection with the resignation of Senator Goff from the senatorial investigating committee, appointed under senate resolution 195 of the 66th congress, first session, and the appointment by me of a successor to him on the committee, legal arguments pro and con have been submitted to me involving the question of whether the committee still is in possession of the powers which it had before the adjournment of the congress.

"In my judgment the supreme court of the United States in the case of John J. McGrath, deputy sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate, appellant, versus Mal S. Daugherty, respondent, decided January 17, 1927, conclusively disposes of the question in the affirmative. The supreme court was passing upon the powers of a senatorial committee authorized by a resolution to sit and perform its duties at such times and places as may be deemed advisable or necessary by said committee.

"It held that this language of the resolution extended the powers of the committee beyond the congress which passed the creating resolution, senate resolution 195, 66th congress, creating the present senatorial investigating committee, contains the following language:

"Said committee is hereby empowered to sit and act at such time or times and at such places or places as it may deem necessary."

Holding Applicable. "The holding of the supreme court, therefore, in the Daugherty case is clearly applicable. The language of the supreme court in this case was as follows:

"The investigation was ordered and the committee appointed during the 66th congress. That congress expired March 4, 1925. The resolution ordering the investigation in terms limited the committee's authority to the period of the 66th congress; but this apparently was changed by a later and amendatory resolution authorizing the committee to sit at such times and places as it might deem advisable or necessary. It is said in Jefferson's manual: 'Neither house can continue any portion of itself in any parliamentary function beyond the end of the session without the consent of the other two branches. When done, it is by a bill constituting them commissioners for the particular purpose.'

Reference Cited. "But the context shows that the reference is to the two houses of congress when adjourned by prorogation or dissolution by the king. The rule may be the same with the house of representatives, whose members are all elected for a term of six years, and so divided into classes that the seats of one-third only may become vacant at the end of each congress, two-thirds always continuing into the next congress, save as vacancies may occur through death or resignation.

"In view of the above, I have appointed Senator S. D. Fess, of Ohio, to said committee in place of Senator Guy D. Goff, resigned."

Voters' Prize Award Made Again This Year

The voters' prize will be presented to the ward securing the largest percentage of voters over the last election in the Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign.

The prize is a silver vase, three feet high, to be kept for one year, and $200 in cash to be spent for some civic purpose. Those voting in the election in the winning ward will decide how the money will be spent.

Every year the Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign is to be conducted until Atlanta citizens "express their patriotism at the ballot box."

At present only around 15 per cent of white citizens vote.

The FIFTH WARD won the prize last year.

YAARAB SHRINERS BANQUET VISITING CHIEF POTENTATE

Judge David W. Crossland, of Montgomery, Imperial Potentate, Pays Official Visit To City.

In the colorful scene formed by several hundred Shriners of Yaarab Temple, attired in the rich costumes and fezzes of the temple's organization, Judge David W. Crossland, of Montgomery, Ala., imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, Thursday night paid his official visit to Atlanta on his annual tour of the nation. The banquet in honor of the visiting "noblest noble" was held on the roof garden of the Ansley hotel with Judge Crossland as the only speaker of the evening, according to Shrine custom on such occasions.

Following Judge Crossland's address, in which he outlined the humanitarian work of the Shrine, and urged strict adherence to the order's general policy of optimism and good cheer, Past Potentate, Bayne Gibson of Yaarab Temple, presented the imperial potentate with a handsome silver vase as a token of the "joy and esteem of 5,000 nobles of Yaarab." Judge Crossland responded to the presentation both in behalf of himself and Mrs. Crossland, to whom Yaarab ordered flowers sent Thursday by a Montgomery florist.

Henry G. Heinz, past potentate of Yaarab Temple, and one of the best known Shriners in Georgia and the southeast, was proposed by Judge Crossland as suitable timber for the position of imperial potentate within the near future. Judge Crossland declared that the closest friendships prevail between Yaarab and his own temple in Montgomery, Alabama.

Raps Tenets. Speaking of the tenets of the order, Judge Crossland declared that the Shrine truly is a playground—"but a playground out of which have come blessings to thousands of little souls who called to their brothers of the Shrine—our little pals whom we have provided for in the hospitals for crippled children.

"The Shrine is no place for the confirmed pessimist, who believes only in sadness and sorrow, and who refuses to smile, but always wears a smile."

EMORY UNIVERSITY SUE BY STUDENT WHO DID NOT PASS

Emory University, Ga., April 7.—(Special.)—An unusual suit, the first of its kind on record, and one which would affect every college student who "flunked" if won by the plaintiff, has been filed in DeKalb superior court against Emory university.

J. J. Poe, 60, school teacher, because he failed to make the grade in the English course in the extension department of Emory seeks to recover his matriculation fee of $5 and the course fee of $20, alleging that failure to pass the course was partly responsible for him being denied a teacher's certificate in Kentucky recently. One of Poe's allegations is that he could not hear the instructors distinctly during the lectures.

This is said to be the first time a student ever sought to recover his course and matriculation fees from a college after failing to pass and if the plaintiff wins in this instance it would mean that every student who ever failed to make a grade could recover the cost of the course.

Poe's suit has been made returnable at the May term of DeKalb superior court and Emory university will be represented by Aubrey Folts and Robert Whitaker, law students of the university, it is announced.

Diamonds valued at $2,000 were stolen from the home of Mrs. Angel Marinos, 740 South Pryor street, while she and other members of her family were absent, according to her report to the police, Thursday night.

The robbery was committed Wednesday night by a marauder who left no clue, according to Mrs. Marinos. She found on opening her dresser during Thursday that someone had stolen two diamond rings, of one carat each, valued at $1,000; a cluster pin, valued at $250; a baby cross pin set with brilliant and a silver mesh bag, together with an assortment of lesser jewelry, she said.

Burglars visited S. E. Strauss, of 663 Williams street, northwest, to take a photograph and a quantity of fine clothing from his household furnishings, he told police.

This was a front window of a dry goods store owned by S. Goldstein, at 116 Decatur street, but a check of the contents uncovered no loss for Mr. Goldstein.

A would-be burglar heaved a cobbles through a front window of an A and P tea store at 1106 Highland avenue Thursday night, but was frightened away before an entrance could be effected.

Three suits of clothes and a like number of hats was Dave Cohen's contribution to Friday night's minor crime wave, his store at 225 Peters street having been entered earlier in the night, he told officers.

A residence at 643 Hemphill avenue, the owner of which was not listed, was burglarized, a suit of clothing and two watches being taken, according to police records.

Astounding Official Tests of Television Made by Secretary and Newspapermen Success.

SCREEN SHOWS MAN TALKING AT PHONE

Great American Habit of Jumping From Bathtub To Telephone Likely To Be Abandoned.

New York, April 7.—(United News.)—Heralding the day when the "seeing" telephone may be as common as the present speaking instrument, television was demonstrated semi-publicly for the first time Thursday when the image, as well as the voice, of persons speaking in Washington was transmitted through wires and other to a group of newspapermen in the laboratories of the New York Bell Telephone company.

The amazing possibilities of this triumph of modern science over nature can scarcely be anticipated even by the experts who developed it, but to the observers who saw it in operation, television was regarded as an epochal achievement.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, spoke into an ordinary telephone in Washington while the group here, more than 250 miles away, heard his address and watched him at the same time. The secretary's image, as plain as a motion picture, flickered in the yellow light of a screened frame about a yard square.

As Hoover spoke, the observers noted that the movements of his lips, the occasional nodding of his head and other gestures were perfectly synchronized with his words, which were amplified through a loud speaker.

How It Is Done. Hoover's image was picked up on a perforated disc behind his telephone, transformed into electric impulses and sent through the air by wire and radio to the New York laboratory. Here the impulses were amplified and reflected on the yellow screen.

Walter F. Gifford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, explained at the opening of the demonstration that the nature of the undertaking precludes any present possibility of television being available in homes and offices generally.

"What its practical uses shall be," said Gifford, "I leave to your imagination."

The practical results of the demonstration were amazing. In one of the tests Earl J. Johnson, night editor of the United Press, stepped to the telephone and asked for the Washington staff of the United Press.

In less than that time Rock was before him in a little box. The widely advertised "voice with a will" did not have to be imagined. It was there, smile and all.

Some Conversation.

"Are you the Washington operator?" Johnson asked.

"Yes," the girl said. "Who are you calling?"

"Will you please connect me with Alfred P. Rock, of the Washington staff of the United Press."

Just a second.

In less than that time Rock was before him in a little box.

TWO KIDNAPERS OF VIRGINIA JO CONFESS CRIME

Negro, 17, and Brother, 14, Who Abducted Chattanooga Child Are Caught in Shanty.

$3,050 OF RANSOM PAID RECOVERED

Older Boy Shoulders Blame for Actual Kidnaping—Brother Assisted in Caring for Girl.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 7.—(AP) Eleven days and nights of relentless pursuit of the kidnapers of little Virginia Jo Frazier, two-year-old daughter of Commissioner Fred B. Frazier, ended at 9 o'clock Wednesday when Lewis Willis, 17, and his brother Arthur, 14, negro youths, broke down under the grilling of detectives and made confessions following a raid upon their shanty at 1018 East Third street. Capture of the negroes had been kept secret.

Cowed by officers into submission the boy abductors handed over $3,050 of the $3,333 ransom money paid to them by Commissioner Frazier. Lewis shouldered all the blame for the actual kidnaping, although it was admitted that Arthur had conspired with him in taking care of little Virginia Jo, who was stolen from her cradle on the night of March 23.

Shanty Is Raided. Suspicions of several days standing were verified by Detectives Dodson and Burns and Deputies Taylor and Wheeler, who raided the shanty in which the boys lived early Wednesday night, police said. The officers found both of their suspects at home and took them into custody, holding them under $7,000 bond at the county jail. Grilled by officers, the youths made a clean breast of the kidnaping which aroused the entire south, according to the officers.

The finger of suspicion first pointed at Lewis Willis when he flashed a $20 bill at a pharmacy on East Third street Tuesday, two days after the kidnapers had received the ransom from Mr. Frazier. Witnesses said that the negro boy had run two blocks, turning into a side street and disappearing. The Willis boys live but one block away from the pharmacy.

Detectives immediately began to search the neighborhood, seeking some clue which would reveal the identity and whereabouts of the negro boy who had presented the $20 bill, which had been marked with the rest of the money before Commissioner Frazier turned it over to the abductors.

Employees Give Aid. Employees in the store were responsible for the eventual apprehension of the pair. They identified the chief Willis as the one who had cashed the marked bill in the pharmacy.

Motives other than greed for money could not be found. The assumption that the kidnapers knew the inside of the Frazier household was verified when it was learned that Lewis had worked for Commissioner Frazier, doing odd jobs and washing his car on several occasions.

Arthur, who played nurse-maid to the kidnapped child, was formerly employed at Erlanger hospital to clean and do other janitor work. He left the employ of the hospital several weeks ago. Officers believe that he stole the drug with which Baby Virginia was silenced during the period of her confinement.

Wax Images Melt As Fire Ruins Carnival

Two in Hospital, $65,000 Lost in Wax As Wild Night's Climax.

Jesse James and more than $60,000 worth of other notorious wax figures, who in real life sent cold chills down the spines of law abiding citizens, melted without marked resistance Thursday night before the heated touch of gasoline soaked tent flaps, and set in motion a series of calamities in which one woman, Robert "Ting" manager of the Shersley shows, and a fire truck figured as principals.

Miss Alma Parker, of 67 Bankhead avenue, is in Grady hospital with a sprained foot, sustained when hit by a fire truck rushing to the scene of the conflagration, alleged to have been precipitated through the vengeance of three 17-year-old youths, who were jailed on charges of incendiarism. Mr. King also was rushed to Grady to have his hands treated from a rain attempt to save his valuable figures from the vengeance of the mounting flames.

Andrew Berryhill, of 732 Kincaid avenue; Daniel Emmert, of 722 Chestnut street, and Reuben Gentry, of 714 Chestnut street, all 17, were arrested after the large fire truck screamed its way out Marietta street to the scene of the fire and careened into Miss Parker. They were charged with having set fire to the tent after soaking parts of it in gasoline in retaliation for some trouble they are said to have experienced with King relative to seeing the exhibits.

The trio all deny any implication in the case and vehemently declare their innocence of any act of arson. Mr. King estimated his loss at approximately $65,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

But the argument goes on.

Somebody Settle It, Let French Historians Start Dueling.

Paris, April 7.—(United News.) French historians are engrossed in a heated argument over the question of which hand Napoleon, in his well-known pose, stroked in his vest.

Half of the historians contended that it was his right arm, while an equal number pointed to many contemporary paintings to show that it was the left arm which crossed the breast. Ingres and Chariot painted him in that attitude, yet David, Napoleon's court painter, showed the right hand in the vest.

It is impossible to settle the argument by Napoleon's vests, for half of them button on the right and half on the left. Paucifying historians have suggested that perhaps Napoleon used the right hand when he wore a vest buttoning on the left and vice versa.

But the argument goes on.

Shanghai, April 8.—Possibility of armed intervention in China to prevent the violation of Russia's diplomatic privileges "as given more weight today by a statement of Wilhelm Linde, soviet consul general, following the placing of an armed guard about the soviet consulate.

In an exclusive statement to the correspondent of The Constitution and N. A. N. A., Linde describes the Pekin and Shanghai incidents as "unheard of" and "violation of every code of decency" and said that he had already protested to Moscow.

Situation Grave. "I cannot say whether war will result," he said, "but the situation is one of extreme gravity.

"The unprovoked incident at Pekin has been used by irresponsible people here to create a political demonstration to embarrass and intimidate us. The dean of the consular corps has disclaimed all knowledge of the municipal council's action and later said that Fessenden, the chairman of the municipal council, had been informed and would be held responsible for this action and for any further incidents.

"It is most surprising that the bandits and ruffians of the Shantung army should be redeployed in volunteer corps uniforms and permitted to surround the consulate. We protested incorporation of these brigands in the volunteer corps six weeks ago. Although they have not penetrated the consulate, yet they today renege the vice consul permission to leave the building without a search, in violation of every code of decency. A consul of his employee can be stopped only by force."

Failure of Funeral Director To Return Body Causes Suit

COLUMBUS FAMILY SEEKS $10,000

Columbus, Ga., April 7.—(AP)—One of the most unusual suits ever entered here is the damage action filed in superior court by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Moore against T. W. Britton, a local funeral director, in which the sum of $10,000 is asked.

The petitioners allege that following the death of their infant son a short time ago, the body was turned over to agents and employees of the defendant to be prepared for burial with the understanding that the body was to be returned to the family residence for funeral services.

Petitioners further claim that at the appointed hour relatives and neighbors gathered at the home for the services, but that the body of the baby was not returned and that they have no knowledge of what disposition was made of it; that as a consequence great grief, disappointment, pain and mortification and humiliation was occasioned the family.

While no answer has yet been filed to the petition, it is understood that through misunderstanding the body of the infant was prepared for burial and was interred in one of the cemeteries of the community.

POTASH CONTROL CHARGED IN SUIT

Conspiracy To Monopolize Is Directed by German and French Producers, Is Allegation.

New York, April 7.—(AP)—The government launched an attack today on the alleged monopoly of the potash industry, which it claims is controlled by German and French firms, when a petition for a permanent injunction was filed in the United States district court, naming 16 defendants, charged with violating the anti-trust laws.

Through representatives in New York, arranging with American distributing agencies, the government, through Alexander R. Boyce, attached to the attorney general's office, claims that the foreign companies are dividing the sale of potash to be made in this country.

In addition, the complaint alleges price fixing and agreement to select a single exclusive selling agency in the United States by May 1.

The injunction was asked to restrain the German and French firms from carrying out "the combination, conspiracy and contract."

The defendants named include Dr. Maximilian Kemper, Dr. Oskar Eckstein, Robert Kunze, A. Diehn, Dr. Ernest Frohne, all German citizens, now in New York; E. K. Howe, and H. A. Forbes, officers of the Potash Importing Corporation of America; C. Corne, said to be affiliated with the Societe Commerciale Des Potasses d'Alsace; Walker R. Howe, Ren Gides, all of New York.

Other firms named in the injunction include a syndicate controlling potash in Germany and Mines Domiales de Potasse and the Societe Anonyme Des Mines de Kali Sainte-Therese, operating Alsatian mines.

Tien-tsin, April 7.—(AP)—Chinese police this afternoon entered the French concession with permission of the consul and searched the Dahl bank and various soviet trade missions. The Chinese detained all persons pending the search and removed documents for examination. French police took no direct part in the raid but maintained order outside.

BY RANDALL GOULD. Peking, April 7.—(United News.)—Characterizing Chinese invasion of the Russian soviet embassy grounds as intolerable and unprecedented action, the embassy Thursday lodged a violent protest with the foreign office of the north Chinese government.

The incident already has been reported to the Russian government at Moscow; and the embassy is awaiting its decision regarding what future steps shall be taken, the note stated.

The note charged that police and military bands broke into the soviet embassy's compound in a violent raid Wednesday. Employees and servants of the embassy were arrested by the wholesale and some were mercilessly beaten, it continued. Private houses were looted, the military attache's office was ransacked, and the library of the employees' club was removed, it charged.

Among other subjects protested by the note were alleged abuses of women and children, seizure of money from some of them and refusal of Chinese guards to permit some Russians to return to the compound after the raid was made.

Plot Is Charged. Complicity of soviet Russia in a Chinese communist plot to overthrow the Peking government was charged Thursday by Premier Wellington Koo in a note sent to Moscow.

VETERANS ELECT GENERAL FOSTER

Tampa, April 7.—(AP)—In a hectic session featured by impassioned addresses and hot disputes within state delegations over the candidate to be supported, General J. C. Foster, of Houston, Texas, formerly commander of the trans-Mississippi department, this afternoon was elected as commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans for 1927. He defeated General Edgar D. Taylor, of Richmond, Va., commander of the Army of Northern Virginia, and succeeded General M. D. Vance, of Little Rock.

Little Rock, Ark., previously had been selected as the site of the 1927 reunion, with less of opposition from Lexington, Ky., only other city offering for the place.

The scene in the closing session of the Sons of Confederate Veterans was vastly different. Dr. S. L. Lowry, of Tampa, chairman of the general reunion committee, went in as commander in chief.

After the reappointment of General Harry Rene Lee, of Nashville, Tenn., to serve his tenth term as adjutant general of the veterans, department heads were selected as follows:

R. A. Miller, of Abilene, Texas, commander of the trans-Mississippi department, succeeding General Foster.

General Taylor to succeed himself as commander of the Army of Northern Virginia.

A. T. Goodwin, of Elmore, Ala., to succeed Hal W. Walker, Montgomery.

Upon the declaration that the action of General Foster had been declared unanimous, after the count of votes had shown him in the lead, the cowboy band of Simmons university hailed the new commander in chief with "The Eyes of Texas are Upon You," only to be drowned out by the yells of the veterans when they broke from the Texas air into "Dixie."

The delegations from Georgia, Alabama and Oklahoma were divided and indulged in acrimonious debate on the qualifications of the two aspirants to the high command.

Division in the voting followed roughly the course of the Mississippi river, with the east for the most part supporting General Taylor and the west practically solid for General Foster.

Atlanta Chosen

Tomorrow the parade to which the last gallants who followed Lee and Jackson look forward for 12 months as one of the impelling reasons for keeping up the fight, will close the 37th annual recall of the gray clad army to its colors.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans named as department commanders S. R. G. Lankin, of Roanoke, Va., for the department of northern Virginia; John Ashley Jones, of Atlanta, for the army of Tennessee; Edmond R. Wiles, of Little Rock, Ark., for the trans-Mississippi department.

General Lowry will appoint subordinate officers later, as will General Foster.

The fighting men of the sixties confined themselves to a resolution recommending the establishment of a university in Texas as a memorial to the women of the Confederacy, and another concerning the Sons for a practice of riding in automobiles in the grand parade while their elders march behind the colors.

Scout Albert S. Adams Starts Construction Work On Camp Named As Father's Memorial

Scouts' Summer Camp To Be Ready for Boys This Summer Following Successful Campaign.

Construction work on the "Bert Adams" Boy Scout Memorial camp, in Cobb county, got under way Thursday afternoon as young Bert Adams, son of the man for whom the camp was named, broke the first shovelful of ground in the presence of many Atlanta Scout officials.

According to national Scout executives, the local camp promises to become one of the most completely equipped playgrounds of its sort in America. The 80-acre tract of forest land is owned outright by the organization, and has already been improved by the leveling of a suitable camp site and erection of a dam to back water for a lake.

Work on a dining hall and kitchen, together with water and drainage systems, will be rushed to completion so that the summer season will find the youth of Atlanta provided with a playground, local officials said, the immediate construction work calling for an outlay of approximately $10,000.

Plans for the playground have been formulated over a period of three years, during which time every detail of construction was worked out. One of the chief contributors in this respect was Paul Norcross, the engineer who was largely instrumental in developing Atlanta's present water works system.

LIQUOR PACT HIT IN COURT ACTION

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—The supreme court was asked today to declare unconstitutional the treaty with Great Britain under which British vessels are permitted to bring intoxicating liquors into American ports under seal.

John F. Milliken, of the Neptune Association of Masters and Mates of American Vessels, and Alex. Smith, insisting that the enforcement of the treaty was diminishing the prospects of earning a livelihood as American ship owners and seamen, asked the court to review the decision of the federal courts at New York city dismissing their complaint without passing on the constitutionality of the treaty.

They asserted that the recognition of the treaty by government officials and their failure to enforce the law prohibiting the bringing into American territorial waters of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes under any circumstances had resulted in discrimination against American vessels to such an extent that their business was seriously threatened.

The supreme court itself had in a recent decision construed the prohibition amendment as prohibiting the bringing into American waters of intoxicating liquor under seal, the petition said, and the treaty had the effect of nullifying the purpose of the prohibition amendment as construed by the court.

BRYAN PRIMARY REPEAL SOUGHT IN FLORIDA SENATE

Tallahassee, Fla., April 7.—(AP)—Abolition of the Bryan primary system providing for the first and second choice of voters and a return to the double primary in the democratic party was advocated today in a bill introduced in the senate by Senator D. Stuart Gillis, of the third district.

The bill, referred to the committee on privileges and elections, is not expected to come before the senate for several weeks, Senator Gillis said, and opposition to its passage is expected to be strong, he added.

Thursday's session saw 25 measures proposed in the senate exclusive of house bills certified. With the exception of certain local measures whose passage was urged by the senators sponsoring, all were referred to committees.

BAPTISTS SELECT ATLANTA FOR 1928

Columbus, Ga., April 7.—(AP)—At the closing meeting tonight of its three-day session held at the First Baptist church here, the Georgia Baptist Sunday school convention selected Atlanta for the 1928 annual meeting.

Dr. T. W. Tippet, Athens, Ga., as president; chose Dr. J. M. Baird, Columbus; R. E. Matheson, Hartwell; J. Elmer Slider, Atlanta; W. D. Ogilvie, Hawkinsville, and Mrs. A. B. Kyle, Valdosta, as its vice presidents; retained Rev. M. A. Wood, Macon, as its secretary and chose Atlanta as the site of the next convention, which will be held April 10-12, 1928.

At tonight's meeting, with more than 1,000 delegates present at what is described as the most successful and enthusiastic convention yet held by Georgia Baptist Sunday school workers, Judge Camille Kelley, of Memphis, Tenn., son of the late federal judicial official in the country, made the principal address, choosing as her subject "Broken Children."

She stated that the three causes of failure to bring children up properly are selfishness, self-righteousness and plain common sense on the part of parents. She urged a sympathetic understanding of the child, the enactment of a uniform marriage law requiring posting of the banns for at least five days, and a thorough scrutiny of laws which permit the separation of orphan children of the same family.

SUBALTERN SLAYS ENGLISH COLONEL

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and Constitution.)

Gibraltar, April 7.—A sensation was caused this morning when Lieutenant Colonel J. S. Fitzgerald, commanding officer of the Second East Surrey regiment, was shot dead by Lieutenant A. C. Duffield, subaltern of the regiment. The motive is unknown.

Lieutenant Duffield was placed under arrest. Lieutenant Duffield and the colonel were in the orderly room when the tragedy happened. Lieutenant Duffield gave himself up, handing his service revolver to the adjutant and saying:

"I shot him."

The colonel's body was removed to the military hospital. One bullet struck him in the mouth and the other in the chest. Lieutenant Duffield is a regimental musketry officer, with reputation for being a great shot, and is popular in all ranks.

Why Spring Tonic?

Graham or Whole Wheat bread and leafy vegetables are better than a tonic in the spring of year. Home-made bread made from Perkerson's Water Ground Graham or Whole Wheat Flour is better and more appreciated by the family. Use the following recipe:

1 cake yeast; 1½ cups scalded milk; 1½ cups lukewarm water; 3 tablespoons lard or butter; 3 tablespoons brown sugar.

7 cups Perkerson's Graham or Whole Wheat flour; 1½ teaspoons salt.

Dissolve yeast and sugar in liquid. Add lard or butter, then flour gradually, then salt. Place in greased bowl, set in warm place to rise two hours. When double in bulk turn out and knead. Mold into loaves, place in greased pans, let rise for one hour or until light. Bake one hour in slow oven.

GOVERNOR DECLINES TO MIX IN POLICE ROW

No action will be taken by Governor Clifford Walker on a petition filed before him by J. A. Cochran of Mableton, Ga., asking the governor to bring removal proceedings against Sheriff Tom Sanders, of Cobb county, and County Policemen J. E. Fowler and "Doc" Williams, charging them with making "a brutal and unprovoked attack" on him the night of March 12. The governor refused Thursday to make the probe requested by Attorney G. Hall Taylor, representing Cochran, on the ground that no such power is vested in the governor. "I shall take no action in the case," the governor said, after reading the petition. "The governor is not vested with any power to make such an investigation under the circumstances and I must refuse to consider such an investigation."

Sheriff Sanders issued a complete denial of any participation in the attack, while the two policemen said they had a fight with Cochran when he resisted arrest. Cochran was charged with having liquor in his possession.

After Cochran had filed his petition with the governor in which he charged that he was "forced" to go to trial by Judge John S. Wood, of the Blue Ridge circuit, and that the grand jury had refused to make an investigation of the charges he had made against the sheriff and the policemen, Judge Wood issued contempt of court proceedings against Cochran and Taylor, his attorney. The contempt case will come up for hearing at Marietta April 9.

CHILE PRESIDENT TAKES VACATION

Santiago, Chile, April 7.—(AP)—The political upheaval in Chile growing out of a drastic campaign against the opposition by Premier Ibanez ever since he assumed the premiership two months ago took a dramatic turn today when President Emilio Figueroa Larraín announced that he would absent himself from his post for two months.

At the same time the council of ministers signed a decree giving two months' leave to the president and naming Premier Ibanez, who also holds the portfolio of interior, to act as interim president for the period.

The president's action, it is understood, grew out of the strained situation which has existed in the government because of the refusal of Dr. Javier Figueroa, the president's brother, to resign his post as president of the supreme court which had been demanded by Premier Ibanez.

The premier, acting in his new capacity as vice president, called a cabinet meeting immediately after the decree had been signed at which he assumed the function of chief executive of the country. His first official act was to sign a decree declaring vacant the post of the president of the supreme court.

This morning President Figueroa Larraín held a long conference with Premier Ibanez and afterwards a cabinet meeting made known his decision to absent himself from the executive chair.

"Serious personal motives compel me to absent myself for a period of two months," the president's statement said. "During this time the minister of the interior (Premier Ibanez) will replace me in the presidency with the title of vice president of the republic in accordance with Article 66 of the political constitution of the state."

This document was signed by the president and Foreign Minister Conrado Rios Gallardo.

Dismissal of two cases for want of sufficient evidence and the entry of four pleas of guilty to prohibition charges featured noon jury business of United States district court Friday.

Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley dismissed the cases of Ruby McLee, alias Ruby Raines, charged with narcotic violation, and charged with possession of a gallon and three-quarters of liquor, on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

His case having been transferred from Rome to Atlanta so he could enter a plea of guilty, Elmer Brannan of Paulding county, was sentenced to three months in the Floyd county jail on charges of possessing five gallons of liquor, manufacturing liquor and possessing property to make whisky.

Rheumatism Is a Weather Prophet
More Prevalent Than for Many Years—Sudden Changes of Temperature an Immediate Cause.

When rheumatism fastens on an individual, he generally knows what the trouble is. The inflammation, soreness, pain, swelling joints and backache, with loss of appetite, plainly indicate rheumatism. Physicians differ as to the disease, but all agree that rheumatism is caused by poison in the system. Cold and moisture, with sudden change of temperature, cause aggravated attacks and intense suffering. The first twinge of pain or stiffness of muscles demands quick action.

Don't suffer a minute; get from Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., or any druggist, a bottle of Rheuma. It's a great prescription which must give you quick relief from rheumatic suffering or it will cost you nothing. Rheuma will help to bring swollen joints down to normal, reduce the pain without the least injury to the heart. Two weeks' treatment is inexpensive and your money will be returned if you do not get the joyful relief anticipated.—(adv.)

Stranger Leaves Young Baby at Farmer's Home

Francis, a baby girl just two weeks old, $50, a bundle of baby clothes and many assurances were left Tuesday night at midnight at the home of C. Z. Norton, a farmer living near Ben Hill community, six miles from Atlanta, by a stranger who then departed hastily with a white woman and a negro woman believed to be a nurse in a waiting automobile.

Norton was awakened by a knock at his door, and upon answering it saw a man with a bundle and a baby in his arms, he told police Thursday. The man, Norton said, told him he had heard Mrs. Norton was a fine nurse and he wanted them to keep his two-week-old daughter for one month.

When asked for his name and address, the stranger refused to give either and pressed $50 into Mr. Norton's hands.

"If this money runs out I will send more and if I should fail to send for her within 30 days, there will be more money for you," he told the farmer.

The man jumped into a waiting automobile, which had driven up in Mr. Norton's front yard, and drove away hurriedly, but not before Mr. Norton had seen a white woman and a negro, apparently a nurse or maid, in the waiting car.

Mr. Norton announced his intention of keeping the child pending further developments.

Theatre Padlock Bill Becomes New York Law
Albany, N. Y., April 7.—(United News).—The most crushing blow at Broadway's dirty or debatable dramas in the recent history of the New York stage was delivered by the censors here Thursday when Governor Alfred E. Smith's signature made the Wales theater padlock bill a law.

Under its provisions the theater convicted of producing an immoral play is faced with the same penalty as the federal government applies to bootleg splunks. The theater can be "padlocked" for one year by the revocation of its license.

Although Governor Smith had taken a stand against stage censorship, he signed the Wales bill, saying, in a message accompanying the action, that he was "satisfied that this power will be wisely and discreetly used and that no man will be deprived of his property unjustly."

In addition to its "padlocking" provision, even more menacing in its way than the federal prohibition padlock because of the high rental value of theater as opposed to speakeasy property, the Wales bill bristles with other enforcement teeth.

It was drawn up by District Attorney Josh Barton, and it allows the district attorney to proceed against a single actor or against a single scene instead of being forced to consider the play as a whole.

This feature is one which the book-auditory-censors have been trying to have applied in that field for a long time, as it would simplify the labors of censorship immensely.

A third provision of the new law bars forever from the New York stage the theater of perversion. The new censorship law was deemed of such importance that it became effective upon signing.

MAN LOSES LIFE TRYING TO SAVE STRAY CUR DOG
Maplewood, N. J., April 7.—(AP)—Stuart I. Weill, general sales engineer of the Western Electric company, today lost his life in an unsuccessful effort to save a stray dog. He was killed in trying to coax the animal from the path of an approaching express train. The dog was struck by the train and so badly hurt that it had to be shot.

Weill was waiting at the station to take a train for his office in New York when he spied the dog wandering along the track, and giving no heed to the onrushing express. Weill leaped over the platform, shouting at the dog in an effort to scare it from danger, and was struck by the train and decapitated.

EDITORS FINISH TOUR IN MEXICO

Laredo, Texas, April 7.—(Special).—Mexico is certain to become the objective of thousands of American tourists annually, enthusiastically asserts a party of 75 agricultural editors and their wives who reached the border here today after a two-weeks' tour of Mexico. The party, made up of members of the American Agricultural Editors' association, representing a farm circulation of more than ten million subscribers, traveled in a special train, and, in addition to dozens of the principal cities, visited a large number of agricultural communities.

The tour, which was arranged and conducted by the Mission Pacific lines, was the third international tour of the American farm editors, and was undertaken for the purpose of obtaining an intimate view and broader understanding of Mexican agricultural conditions and opportunities.

Mexico, the party said, has scenic beauties that rival those of any corner of the world, and a charm and quaintness more appealing than most favored European tourist spots.

The farm editors said they noted a friendly welcoming attitude on the part of Mexican residents, and expressed the belief that once Americans realize Mexico offers all the delights of a trip abroad, without the necessity for an ocean voyage, that the volume of tourist travel south will show a remarkable increase.

According to C. A. Cobb, of Atlanta, president of the association, the editors were favorably impressed with the efforts of the Mexican national government to improve rural conditions. Several of the government's new agricultural schools, colleges, and irrigation projects were visited and evidences of sincere endeavor to bring about a new era of agricultural development were noted by Mr. Cobb.

The tour, made possible by L. W. Baldwin, president of the Mission Pacific lines, was splendidly arranged and handled by E. H. Reynolds, Mr. Baldwin's personal representative, he asserted.

The party left St. Louis March 20 and visited Baton Rouge, New Orleans, Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi, King Ranch and spent a day in the lower Rio Grande valley. Leaving Matamoros on the night of March 25 the party visited Monterrey, Manuel, Tampico, Culceta, San Luis Potosi, Mexico City, El Hule, Vera Cruz, Aguas Calientes, Torreon and Laredo. The party toured the Laredo farming section, and will spend a day in the winter garden section and San Antonio and will stop en route to St. Louis, for several hours at the Texas A. & M. at College Station.

STATE LIBRARIANS MEET AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., April 7.—(AP)—Librarians from various parts of the state attending the annual meeting of the Georgia Library association assembled tonight at the public library, after the day's conference, to hear general talks on library subjects and to receive the official greetings of the city extended by Mayor Robert H. Hull.

Miss Emily Miller, editor of the Booklist of the A. L. A., gave a talk on the method of selecting books for the Booklist. Miss Orent, supervisor of the Kate Baldwin free kindergarten, gave a talk on "The Living Library."

Auston P. Wright, chairman of the board of managers of the Savannah library, was unable to be present on account of illness and his place was taken by J. W. Griffith, a member of the board, who extended the board's greetings. Miss O. M. Weyth, as president of the Georgia Library association, made the response. Mr. Griffith paid a compliment to the historical knowledge of Thomas Gamble, another member of the board, and during the course of his remarks spoke of many things in Savannah to interest the visiting librarians besides the library itself, such as the Georgia Historical society, the Telfair academy and the DeRenne library. There were many interesting exhibits on view, arranged by publishers and dealers in library supplies, but most interesting of all were some valuable old books which are the property of the Georgia Historical society and which were in charge of Mrs. Neyle Colquitt. They included a first edition of Dr. Johnson's dictionary; a first edition of Sir Walter Raleigh's "Voyages," 1614, and two volumes of Hakluyt's voyages, vols. II and III, dated 1599 and 1600.

The keynote of the convention will be the need of county libraries and the effort that should be made to establish them. To illustrate this, there was a book play this afternoon at the Huntington club with members of the various library staffs taking part. It was called "Why Not?" Miss Beverly Wheatcroft, secretary of the Georgia Library commission, and charge of this production.

Mrs. R. F. Bullard gave a luncheon today for the members of the convention. A book symposium will be held tomorrow evening at Bannan lodge. Short reviews of various types of new books will be given.

The public sessions are being held at the public library, the first being a round table discussion held this morning, conducted by Miss Beverly Wheatcroft, secretary of the association.

FAMILIES MOVE AS RIVER RISES

Clarkdale, Miss., April 7.—(AP)—Scores of families whose homes in the Burks Landing area, 15 miles south-east of Clarkdale, are in danger from flood waters of the Mississippi river as a result of a threatened levee break, had been removed tonight to Ferrell and other adjacent towns three miles distant, where they are being cared for in safety.

Five thousand acres of bottom land will be inundated should the "spur, or old levee, break at the threatened point where caving of the natural banks of the river has threatened it. The main levee of the Mississippi, which adjoins Burks Landing levee, is in no danger, according to officials of the Yazoo, Miss., delta levee board who issued the warning of the probable breach in the old defense.

Several hundred persons live in the menaced area. Many of these were camped in the open tonight upon the levee or on other elevations. Most of the livestock and household goods have been brought out of the danger zone.

Levee commission engineers were at the scene of the weakened dyke to watch the outcome of the onslaught of the swollen stream and to aid in removal of persons who require assistance.

The threatened land is in the form of a circle in the loop of a river, much like that at Laconia Circle, Ark., a few miles further down stream, which is now under water entering through a crevasse.

Burks levee circles the main Mississippi river levee, forming a pocket between the main levee and the river. It is this pocket area, lying between McClellan Landing and Burks Landing, which is threatened. In the event of a complete break, the inflowing waters will cover some of the most fertile land in the delta and will rush against the main levee which is believed proof against its force.

LEVEE STILL HOLDS AT COLUMBUS, KY.

Cairo, Ill., April 7.—(AP)—The levee at Columbus, Ky., 25 miles south of here, was still holding at 4 p. m., but the Mississippi river had risen to within two inches of the top, said a report received late today. A slight rise would put the water over the embankment, and the situation is said to be serious. Rain has been falling steadily all day.

Volunteer workers from Clinton, Ky., continued to aid residents of Columbus in their battle to save the levee but slight progress was reported.

Reports of families being marooned in their homes at Dog Tooth bend, area were received here today. More than 200 persons have been rendered homeless there and are being cared for by the Red Cross. Supplies and tents were sent to the bend area today.

SERVANTS WHIPPED, SOVIET CHARGES

Wednesday revealed participation of the Soviet in the plot, Koo asserted. At present, he said, first aid in creating disturbances in Peking and then at accomplishing the destruction of the north Chinese government, which is endorsed by Marshal Chang Tso-lin, ranking north Chinese military official.

While officials of the Soviet embassy expressed anger and amazement at the charges, the incident continued to be the chief topic of conversation of all foreign communities.

The foreign diplomatic corps in Peking protested Tuesday to the state of Marshal Chang Tso-lin on the grounds that Chinese police who entered the Soviet embassy compound exceeded their authority while there. The text of the diplomats' note was not given out.

Meanwhile, the Chinese police who arrested Mrs. Mildred Mitchell and Wilbur Burton, two Americans, on Tuesday submitted to the United States legation the charges against their prisoners. The charges were not made public, but will be turned over to the United States consul at Tientsin. He will appoint a representative to conduct Mrs. Mitchell and Burton to Tientsin, probably on Friday. They are to be tried by the United States consular court there.

Charges by Premier Koo meant nothing, according to statements of Soviet officials. They complained that Koo based his charges on documents alleged to have been found in the Russian embassy compound. As no foreign observer had checked the documents seized, it was claimed that the Chinese police could produce any documents they wished, falsely alleging that they had been found in the embassy compound.

United States Minister MacMurray, in discussing the raid, said ministers of foreign powers, granted Chinese police permission to enter the legation and the offices of the Russian bank in the Russian embassy compound.

CHINESE EXCEEDED PERMISSION GRANTED.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Official reports confirming the violation of Russian diplomatic immunity in Peking by police and soldiers vied for attention with disclosure that a fleet of 11 foreign warships has mobilized at Hankow, nationalist political capital, at a time when demands for reparations for the Nanking outrages are being drafted for presentation at Hankow.

Minister MacMurray called that the Russian embassy raid had followed permission granted the Chinese authorities by the Soviet diplomat of the Boxer protocol powers, the Dutch minister, for a search of the privately owned dahl bank and the building of the Eastern China railway, adjacent to the embassy compounds for evidence of "subversive Soviet agitation."

He added that the Chinese evidently had exceeded this authorization to search private Russian-owned and occupied property and invaded the barracks in the old Russian legation compound occupied by the Russian legation guard before the Moscow government waived its special rights under the Boxer protocol.

The fleet mobilization at Hankow was reported by Consul General Lockhart. His dispatch, as made public, did not indicate that the concentration of war vessels had any other significance than as reflecting tension over the status of foreigners still prevailing at Hankow.

Four Japanese destroyers reached the city within 48 hours after the rioting of April 3 in the Japanese concession, in which Japanese and Chinese were killed, Lockhart said. In all, there are eight Japanese naval craft, four American, six British, two

AMERICAN SLAIN IN COLD BLOOD.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Reaffirmation of previous reports that Dr. J. E. Williams, American missionary at Nanking, was murdered in cold blood by Chinese nationalists troops was given to the state department today in a detailed report by Consul General Gauss at Shanghai.

The message from Gauss, sent in response to a state department inquiry declared that Dr. Williams was one of a group of Americans being searched by the soldiers and that he had protested the theft of a watch, a family heirloom, but "without resisting or touching either the soldier or the watch."

"At that point," the message continued, "another of the soldiers shot Dr. Williams and killed him. Two other soldiers looted his dead body. They then walked away unconcerned."

Making A Life John D.'s Theme At New Church

Cleveland, April 7.—(AP)—Speaking in a new home of an old church he joined 14 years ago, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., tonight drew a contrast between "making a living or making a life" in the Euclid Avenue Baptist church.

Running banks and managing great industries may sink to the level of merely "making a living," he said, if they are regarded as instrumentalities for self-aggrandizement and not an opportunity for far-reaching service. On the other hand, if daily tasks, whether large or small, become vital, meaningful and thrillingly interesting, a life is being made.

The structure in which he spoke was taken by Mr. Rockefeller to illustrate his subject. He was convinced that those who wrought were lifted above the daily routine of "making a living" and thrust on to the significant task of "making a life."

Declaring that the church building stands as a splendid demonstration of what can be accomplished by the friendly cooperation of varied interests and aptitudes, he asked: "Why should there ever be conflict between employers and employees?"

"For my part," he answered, "I have long been profoundly convinced that in the very nature of things, employers and employees are partners, not enemies; that their interests are common, not opposed; that in the long run the success of each is dependent upon the success of the other."

AUTOIST STRICKEN WHILE DRIVING CAR

scowl. Such a man is a misfit in this order, and never gains a true understanding of the Shrine, Judge Crossland declared. "The Shrine properly gives time and thought to amusement because we want the nobles to see some of the sunshine before the dark clouds gather."

"Be not too hasty in judging your fellow man, but rather be liberal of judgment," advised Judge Crossland. "If you know your fellow man, you cannot help but like him. We are all so human as to be full of faults, and yet each man has his virtues. Try to know his good points, and blind ourselves to others' faults."

Lauds Forrest Adair. In closing his remarks, Judge Crossland paid tribute to Forrest Adair, of Yaarab Temple, as a true Shriner, who has "served the Shrine so well that he has made it easy for those of us who have followed."

Judge Crossland will leave Atlanta today for Macon, en route to the imperial council gathering in Atlantic City, June 13-16, as he is now engaged in making the imperial potentate's annual tour of the temples. He came to Atlanta from Knoxville, having been stationed in Chattanooga. Recruits try to Knoxville by Past Potentates Henry C. Heinz and Charles A. Bowen, of Yaarab. He and the imperial party arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night and are being royally entertained by members of Yaarab temple during the short visit. He will be tendered a farewell luncheon at noon today at the Athletic club, after which he and his party will be escorted to the Terminal station.

Members of Judge Crossland's party are Ollie Humphrey, of Alcazar temple, secretary to the imperial potentate; Illustrations Potentate Mike Flannigan, of Karabela temple, Knoxville; and Illustrations Recruit Bill Cooley, also of Karabela temple, all of whom were introduced at the banquet Thursday night.

for the violation of criminal, not political laws.

Rights of Consul. "According to international law, every consul has a right to such literature and flags as he chooses to have."

"I believe the action is due to certain opium smugglers, who have heeded the irresponsible cries of the North China Daily News, which urged a raid on the consulate in an editorial this morning."

Tai Chi, Chinese commissioner of foreign affairs, in an exclusive interview with this correspondent, also stated that he would protest the action.

"It is wholly without legal basis," he said. "The British consul and the United States consul have denied any knowledge of the affair, which proves that it was engineered by local authorities. Such actions tend to subvert the Chinese people against the foreign nations due to the actions of a few local officials who violate the privileges of embassies."

Protest is Made by Russian Consul.

Shanghai, April 7.—(United News.) Enraged by the placing of a white Russian guard around his consulate general by the Shanghai police, Russian Consul General Linde has registered a protest, resulting in a call for a special consular meeting Friday.

Consuls of all the foreign powers will meet to consider the action of the Shanghai police which is without diplomatic precedent. The consuls admit that the police acted without asking advice of officials of the consular body, a step which is customary in such emergencies.

Intrigue Charged.

"The Soviet consulate is a hotbed of intrigue and propaganda," said Commissioner Barrett in explaining surrounding of the building by white Russian mercenary soldiers. "We have every reason to believe that it instigated armed laborers who participated in recent murders as well as other outrageous acts. Hence we have decided to picket the building."

Barrett said the building would not be raided for the present but admitted the possibility of a raid later. He declared that officials in the consulate had been burning papers hurriedly in the last few hours.

Lodges Protest.

The Soviet consul general has conferred with Norwegian Consul General All, who is the dean of the consular body, and lodged a strong protest.

He told the United News that not only had the Soviet consulate general been invaded without authority, but that the Shanghai police had made the incident worse by placing white Russian soldiers on guard.

The white, or czarist, Russians, are sworn enemies of those Russians loyal to the Soviet.

Soviet May Remove Embassy to Hankow.

Shanghai, April 7.—(AP)—The possibility of the removal of the Soviet embassy at Peking to Hankow, the seat of the Cantonese, or nationalist government, was suggested today by Wilhelm F. Lende, Soviet consul here, as a result of yesterday's raid by northern soldiers on buildings attached to the Russian embassy.

Mr. Lende said that such a removal was not impossible in discussing the incident with newspapermen after he had called on the Norwegian consul general, dean of the diplomatic corps in Shanghai, to announce that he would hold the consular body responsible if the Soviet consulate here was raided also. Rumors have been in circulation that such a raid was contemplated.

The Soviet consul general also declared that if the Peking raid was carried out with the approval of the diplomatic corps, it would set a precedent that would endanger the foundation of diplomatic prerogatives. In this connection he said that he understood that permission for the entry of the Chinese troops and police into the legation grounds at Peking had been granted solely by the dean of the diplomatic corps and not from all the members.

BIG TIMBER TRACT SOLD AT LUMPKIN

Lumpkin, Ga., April 7.—(Special.)

A sale of a large body of timber was made Tuesday in Lumpkin when the timber owned by the McMichael estate was sold to J. J. Rogers, of Barnesville.

Quite a number of lumbermen from different sections of the state had been attracted by the sale and the bidding was spirited. From a careful appraisal of the timber it is estimated that there are 5,557,000 feet in the tract, much of it being original timber and all of high value. This timber is near the Seaboard railway.

"PAIN WAS LIKE A KNIFE STAB"

Once helpless from lame back, now does all her own work

Made practically helpless by a strained back, an active young housewife tried everything she could think of, and at last found quick and complete relief from a simple, old-fashioned remedy.

"The pain in my back was like a knife stab," she writes, "and it left me helpless. Sloan's Liniment was given to me to ease the pain, and I am now able to do all my own work."

Sloan's gets results because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It stirs up the body's own forces to get rid of the cause.

Just pat it on lightly without rubbing, and at once you feel a warm, comforting glow, as the healing blood is sent coursing through the sick tissues—stiff, contracted muscles relax, the pain stops, and soon normal conditions are restored.

Schools of Fulton County In Excellent Financial Condition, Auditor Says

Report Made Public by Wisdom Shows Assets of $116,639 Over Liabilities.

Splendid general conditions and excellent financial status of Fulton county schools, as features of the audit of accounts of the Fulton county board of education for the year ending December 31, 1926, as compiled by Tom Wisdom, auditor for County School Superintendent Jere A. Wells.

Special attention is directed in the audit to the amount of assets over liabilities amounting to $116,639.13 as compared with liabilities of the previous year of $12,218.15. The board is in excellent financial condition with total assets of $136,639.15 with just $20,000 liabilities, leaving the net excess of assets over liabilities as stated, the report declared.

The liability of $20,000 consists of two notes, this being a part of the purchase price for building lot of Fulton High school.

All bank loans were paid prior to January 1, 1927, and there are no other liabilities appearing brought over from the past year into the year 1927, it was reported.

Auditor's Statement.

In commenting on the condition of accounts of the system and the system at large, Auditor Wisdom said: "Superintendent Wells and his board have a full grasp of the situation and are handling affairs in a most business-like manner. I wish to call attention to the splendid spirit of cooperation and understanding always means unimpaired progress and general satisfaction to the community at large."

Vouchers Verified. Proper vouchers for all expenditures were found and verification by comparison of all receipts was found to be correct, Auditor Wisdom said. Receipts for the year were in the following: Balance January 1, 1926, $14,086.98; from state of Georgia, $32,268.57; from Fulton county tax collector, $183,843.92; from county commissioners, $305,208.11; from

Homer Rodeheaver To Sing At the Tabernacle Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Baptist Tabernacle, Homer Rodeheaver, most famous of revival song leaders and vocalists, will appear in concert. Mr. Rodeheaver is remembered in Atlanta for his work 10 years ago, when he handled the music for the seven-week revival series conducted here by the Rev. "Billy" Sunday.

Tonight Mr. Rodeheaver will be assisted in his program by Paul Beckwith, famous concert pianist and accompanist. There will also be presented on the platform the by no means unimportant "slipshow," which "Rode" is apt to use at most any moment during his numbers and which is almost as famous as he is himself.

There will be no admission charge for the concert tonight and the Baptist Tabernacle officials extend an invitation to all of Atlanta to come to the tabernacle and, as many of them as can wedge inside, hear the distinguished artist. A collection will be taken up to defray expenses.

Mr. Rodeheaver, who has just concluded an extended revival with the Rev. "Billy" Sunday, in Tampa, is stopping over in Atlanta for this one appearance en route to Illinois, where the famous duo open another revival a week from Sunday. He will arrive in Atlanta this morning and will probably leave late tonight after his concert in concluded.

The pointer for today is: The Ten-Nine opposite King-Jack frequently can be used most effectively in making the finesse.

Yesterday the following hand was given:

With South playing a No-Trump, the first trick should be: Four of Clubs, Eight of Clubs, Queen of Clubs.

Ace of Clubs; and the question is: how Declarer should play the remainder of the hand. Some Declarers would at once attack with the Hearts, hoping to run four heart tricks; but, as has already been pointed out in these articles, that would be very bad play.

$1,000 Bond Set On Amateur House Wrecker Suspect

Bripping down the house may be all right on the stage, but it's taboo in Atlanta.

Recorder Pro Tem, Claude E. Buchanan delivered himself of this ultimatum Thursday when he bound over Will Cooksey, of 161 Nelson street, to the grand jury to answer a charge of having "brought down" and removed a two-story house at 224 Hunter street without the owner's permission.

William Rich, representing the estate of the late D. Rich, and S. H. Graham, special officer for the Stores Mutual Protective association, appeared against Cooksey and testified that the defendant had already torn down one house and was getting along famously on a second when halted.

L. C. Clark testified to having purchased 2,000 feet of lumber from Cooksey, the supposition being that the lumber came from the demolished house.

Cooksey was bound over under $1,000 bond.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has a membership of more than 10,000 Georgians, it was learned.

The special troop train contained five Pullman cars and 14 flat cars carrying motor trucks of artillery equipment. A number of slogans such as "China or Bust," and "Clap Sney Is Our Dish," and others were scrawled in chalk figures on the sides of the cars.

The train came in over the Southern railway and departed over the W. & A. railroad for Chattanooga, Tenn., and on to California.

inspire much buying after the early demand had run its course. Some of the selling in the market was against purchases of spot cotton in the south, but southern offerings were insufficient to suggest any weakness in the spot market. The market was quiet from New Orleans said good sales had been reported in the market there to exporters.

There was further liquidation of many contracts during the day which was mostly switching to later deliveries.

Private cables reported hedging and liquidation in the Liverpool market, adding there was small demand for cotton cloths from India and that the Shanghai market had been resumed.

Exports for the week ending April 7, 1927, were 10,077 bales, making 9,071,274 so far this season. Port receipts 15,882. United States port stocks 2,288,984.

PRICES SAG ON PLANTING NEWS.

New Orleans, April 7.—(AP)—After light gains at the opening, the cotton market sagged today on May liquidation and the belief that planting was making better progress. The close was at the lowest with net losses for the day of 7 to 8 points.

In spite of desirable cables, first trades showed no change from yesterday's close and prices advanced after the call on rains in the belt and the prospect for further untimely rains. Under the buying impetus, May traded up to 14.13, July to 14.28 and October to 14.30, 3 to 4 points above the old crop position.

The reaction which set in later extended throughout the morning and into the early afternoon, swinging May down to 14.12, July to 14.28 and October to 14.30, 3 to 4 points above the old crop position.

May sold up to 14.17 and October to 14.61, net advance of about 4 to 6 points, before the buyers were supplied. Later the demand tapered off and the afternoon market was quiet, with net realizations by recent buyers and selling which seemed to come partly from the south and commission houses.

May declined to 14.05 and October to 14.50 in late trading, net declines of about 6 to 8 points. The close was within a point or two of the lowest.

The detailed weather reports showed very heavy rains in Oklahoma, with lighter rains in Texas and Arkansas, but they evidently failed to

Aunt Het Says

Aunt Het is one of the "old school" of women who has kept right up to date. She is a keen observer and a bright commentator.

Aunt Het is one of those who runs her home in a business-like way, and she makes her purchases with good judgment. She never overlooks a chance to make a saving when there is something she needs offered at a real bargain.

There are thousands of women in Atlanta and suburbs who are just as clever as Aunt Het, but so far they have not aspired to "get into the newspapers."

They read The Constitution advertisements in the morning when they have plenty of time to concentrate on the offerings made; they do their shopping early and then have part of the afternoon and all of the evening for amusement and diversion, which is essential if a woman expects to keep up with the progress of the world.

HOOVER IS SEEN 250 MILES AWAY

at the telephone and his face came up in the little box, holding a receiver to one ear.

"Move over a little bit to the center of the frame," Johnson said. "That's fine, now I can see you plainly."

"You have it on me," Reck said. "I cannot see you, but you sound well."

After exchanging greetings on behalf of other members of the Washington and New York offices of the United Press, Johnson replaced the receiver on the hook and Reck's image disappeared.

Possibilities Demonstrated. Later the possibilities of television applied to radio were demonstrated. In a vaudeville skit broadcast from 3XN, the A. T. & T. station at Whippany, N. J., the face of each performer came up distinctly in the big yellow frame, illustrating the vast improvement that television adds to radio.

The features of the blackface comedian were almost as plain as though he were standing before the footlights of a minstrel show. Radio took on new life as the observers were able to see each announcer and performer as he stepped into the range of the television.

Although the transmission of photographs by wire and radio has not been uncommon in recent months, Thursday's demonstration was the first application of the same principle to the telephone. It is an electrical art growing out of telephony.

A series of instantaneous views of a scene must be transmitted and reproduced at a rate of 15 or more to a second so that there will be no discontinuity of action. A photoelectric cell, acting as an "eye," rapidly scans the scene, transmitting to the distant station a varying current, the variations of which correspond to the differences in light and shade of the successive details.

Scene Reproduced. At the receiving station this current produces at each instant a spot of light of a brightness corresponding to that of the detail of the scene which the photoelectric "eye" was observing. The entire scene, in successive details, is thus reproduced for an observer.

Unlike so many of the great inventions of the past, including wireless, the telephone and the phonograph, television is not the product of an Edison or a Marconi. No single man invented it, although many of its principles are closely associated with the inventions of Edison as well as Marconi. Television was worked out in the huge laboratories of the A. T. & T., a triumph of cooperative experiment by scores of scientists.

There was a hush in the laboratory auditorium as Herbert P. Ives, of the Bell Telephone technical staff, announced the first step in the demonstration, the application of television from one end of the room to the other. Observers were asked to file through a curtained booth and look into a small box where they would see the reflection of a man sitting behind a screen at the other end of the auditorium.

Doubt Dispelled. Here, if any skeptic remain in this age of science, all doubt was dispelled. The image in the box was perfect. Technicians explained that the image was not being brought directly across the room, but through hundreds of yards of wires strung down through the lower floors of the big laboratory building.

In the demonstration with Washington both the telephone and the radiophone were used in transmission of the image to New York. Telephone wires carried the light waves to a station in New Jersey from where they were radioed to New York.

For decades television has been a dream of inventors, and a general idea as to the possible methods had been current. Despite various attempts to apply these commonly recognized ideas, no practical system was developed. The methods and means proposed were inadequate to meet the severe requirements of transmitting visual images over long distances.

Conducted Experiments. An elaborate and highly coordinated series of researches was required. This was undertaken by the A. T. & T. Dr. Ives conducted many of the experiments aided by members of his technical staff.

Applied to radio television may some day make it possible for the listener-in to be a looker-in as well. Above the usual radio cabinet would be a screen varying in size but perhaps for the average home set about 2 feet by 3 feet. On this would appear the faces of the announcers and performers if not the entire broadcasting studio scene.

Thursday's demonstration with Station 3XN reminded one somewhat of a Punch and Judy show. The performers bobbed up into the screened frame one at a time, completed their act and then dropped down out of sight. Television reception, however, requires a dark room the same as motion pictures.

Applied to the telephone the possibilities of the new art are so great as to challenge the imagination. One observer at Thursday's demonstration remarked that if television ever is brought into universal use it will mark the end of the hardy American custom of jumping out of the bathtub to answer the telephone without dressing.

Television probably will not be used as universally as the telephone for many years to come. It is too expensive for that.

But it is likely that within a very few years stations will be established in various cities where a person can sit and talk to as well as see a friend in another part of the country.

This would make it possible for a physician in New York to ring up a patient in some other city and examine his tongue by television.

HOOVER IS BOTH SEEN AND HEARD. Washington, April 7.—(United

News.)—Distant cities have been brought, not only within hearing distance but within sight by the use of "television." Secretary of Commerce Hoover today at the opening of the first television circuit between Washington and New York.

While the commerce secretary spoke into an ordinary telephone transmitter, his features were projected on a screen in New York.

At the transmitting end was a black box from which flickered a bright light. Before this the secretary picked up the telephone and was immediately connected with Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, New York.

The Conversation. "How are you, Mr. Gifford?" the secretary asked as he watched the flickering light playing across his face. "Very fine, Mr. Secretary," Gifford replied and then added: "You are looking quite well."

"You have the advantage on me there," the secretary continued. "Washington station was not equipped with a receiving screen."

Gifford announced over the phone that Hoover's features were quite distinct, and that every movement of his lips as he talked was recorded on the screen.

This was the first official test of "television" and the sending was conducted in a former undertaking establishment which has been rented by the telephone company for laboratory purposes.

Hoover's Speech. Hoover's speech emphasized a new era in important scientific discovery, of which we have already within the last two months seen another great exhibit—the transatlantic telephone," Secretary Hoover declared.

"It is the result of organized, planned and definitely directed scientific research, magnificently coordinated in a cumulative group of highly skilled scientists, loyally supported by a great corporation devoted to the advancement of the art. The intricate processes of this invention could have been developed under any conditions of isolated individual effort."

"The world is under obligation to the American Telephone and Telegraph company for its vision of the future, and constant contribution to other arts, but no one of them more dramatic or more impressive than this."

Confident of Future. "I always find in these occasions a great stimulation to confidence in the future. If we can be assured a flow of new and revolutionary inventions to maintain thought, stimulate spirit, and provide a thousand new opportunities for effort and service, we will have preserved a vital and moving community."

"I am glad to welcome television as the latest product of scientific discovery. It promises that where the voice has led the way over the telephone wires, the eye will immediately follow. Washington and New York are today not only within earshot of each other, but within sight as well."

"Scientists for many years, in many countries, have struggled to solve the problems of television. We may all take pride in the fact that its actual accomplishment is brought about by American genius and its first demonstration is staged in our own country."

WAR POSSIBILITIES SEEN ENDLESS. BY ALFRED P. BECK. Washington, April 7.—(United News.)—Radio vision, now being perfected by C. Francis Jenkins, Washington scientist, can transmit actual moving scenes hundreds of miles within a fraction of a second.

Its possibilities strain the imagination, but war department officials are watching Jenkins' experiments closely, for they see in radio vision a spectacular and amazing inventor already has harnessed radio waves both as an eye and a projectile lens.

In his laboratories the vision of moving objects is caught by a delicate radio waves into a projecting machine, where it is cast distinctly and clearly upon a screen.

He now is working upon a machine to be carried by airplane, which will vision the landscape below and transmit it instantly hundreds of miles back to a projecting screen.

Panorama Unfolds. As the plane flies along, the panorama passing beneath is reflected upon a distant screen far removed from the actual scene.

It is this possibility which attracts the war department. A scouting airplane equipped with one of Jenkins' machines could fly over enemy territory with every fortification and object below transmitted instantly and clearly hundreds of miles back to division headquarters.

Jenkins dreams of the future in radio and then brings his dreams into reality. He is credited with the invention of the modern motion picture projecting machine and the transmission of still pictures by radio.

Miracle Man. A short time ago navy department and weather bureau officials called at Jenkins' laboratory.

"We want some way of transmitting weather maps to ships at sea," they said.

"That is easy," the amazing scientist said as if they had asked for a simple electrical device.

"We think we could use your machine which transmits still photographs and convert it for weather map use," the government officials continued.

"Not practical for a ship's radio room," the inventor replied, "but I will make you one using nothing but pen and ink."

Again the officials were dumfounded and they received their first weather map of the day when Jenkins said, "I'll have it ready for you within three weeks."

Ready in Four Weeks. Four weeks later the instruments had been built and were in actual use.

Transmitting weather maps from Arlington radio station to ships at sea where they are received accurately and clearly.

"I was working on the transmission of moving pictures by radio when the navy asked my help on the weather map machines," Jenkins explained, "but now since that is out of the way I have resumed work on the radio movie and radio vision."

The weather map machine has been converted by the scientist into a military map transmitting instrument.

With this machine an airplane observer can sketch a map, place it on the radio transmitting cylinder and within three minutes an exact copy is back at the receiving station.

This instrument also will prove of untimely value in military operations.

In connection with his experimental work, Jenkins is perfecting a machine for transmitting weather maps to the navy dirigible Los Angeles and in turn receiving map sketches from the air giant while on cruise.

Jenkins is known here as the "Radio Wizard." Mysteries of the ether are his playthings and to him nothing is impossible.

On the wall of his laboratory is the following motto: "The wise man said it couldn't be done, but the fool didn't know they had said this, so he went out and did it."

A. M. E. ZION CHURCH HOLDS CONVOCATION. A large and representative group of women, pastors and two bishops of the A. M. E. Zion church are meeting in Franklin Memorial church on Boulevard and Irwin street, of which Rev. A. M. Goodwin is pastor.

Bishop Paris A. Wallace, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Bishop L. W. Kyles, Winston-Salem, N. C., are present and showing interest in the work of the women of the church.

The sessions are being presided over by Mrs. L. W. Kyles in the absence of Mrs. P. A. Wallace, who is the Episcopal district president of the society.

The general corresponding secretary, Mrs. Anna L. Anderson, Pittsburgh, Pa., with Mrs. Ida V. Smith, the general treasurer, of Washington, D. C., are present.

Dr. W. W. Matthews, Washington, D. C., general secretary-treasurer of the foreign missionary department will deliver an address on Africa and will show the pictures to illustrate his address Saturday night.

The program for the convocation is constructive and subjects of far reaching importance are being studied by the women who are in attendance from Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia,

West Virginia and various parts of Georgia.

Among those who spoke in the meeting Thursday was Bishop R. A. Carter, of the C. M. E. church who stressed the importance of the meeting.

The financial reports on missions will be rendered today.

Among those who are showing interest in the work are Mrs. W. W. Matthews, of Washington, D. C., and several pastors and presiding elders from the three conferences represented here.

The many convocation delegates were welcomed to the city Thursday evening by representatives from the various religious, social and civic organizations. Response to the welcome addresses was made by Mrs. M. J. Branner, of Knoxville, Tenn.

IZAIAK WALTON LEAGUE NAMES NEW CHAIRMAN. (Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., April 7.—Dr. Henry Ward, head of the biology department of the University of Illinois, was elected permanent chairman of the fifth annual convention of the Izaak Walton League tonight at the Hotel Sherman.

With the job goes the privilege of choosing the nominating committee which picks the president of the league for the next year.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, who was elected temporary chairman this morning after his nomination by the faction said to cling to the policies of the late William Dill, founder and past president of the league, was Dr. Ward's opponent for the permanent office.

Dr. Ward, nominated by the non-political group, was acclaimed winner when Senator Brookhart withdrew after several state delegations that voted for him in the morning switched to Dr. Ward.

Charles W. Folds, of Chicago, president of the league, delivered his message, pointing to the necessity of enlarging the Jackson Hole elk range in Wyoming, regulating the sale and transportation of black bass, creating bird sanctuaries and preserving the national forest as a wilderness area.

TENNESSEE SOLON URGES LEGAL BAN ON MACHINE GUNS. Nashville, Tenn., April 7.—(AP)—As an aftermath of bootleg liquor ring slayings in Tennessee, Representative Richard D. Gleaves, of Davidson county, today introduced a bill in the general assembly to outlaw the machine gun in this state.

The bill would make it a felony for any person to use or have in his possession a machine gun while committing or attempting to commit a crime and upon conviction such person would be sentenced to a term in the state penitentiary of not more than 20 years.

The bill exempts from its provisions possession of machine guns by the army, navy and marine corps of the United States, the national guard and properly constituted officers of municipalities, town or counties, or their agents.

Miss Katherine Park Weds Robert M. Soule in Athens

Athens, Ga., April 7.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Katherine Park and Robert Murray Soule was beautifully solemnized tonight at the First Methodist church, Dr. Eugene L. Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Dr. W. P. King, pastor of the First Methodist, officiating.

The church was filled with a brilliant company of friends and relatives. A program of exquisite musical selections was rendered by Mrs. Hunter Barnett Hubbard, organist, and Charles Brookman, violinist. Immediately preceding the entrance of the bride party Mrs. Morris Yow sang "O Promise Me," her lovely solo following Schubert's "Serenade" by the musicians.

The decorations of the church were exceptionally beautiful. The bridal procession was headed by the ushers, Edgeworth Lankin, Dr. T. H. McHatton, the bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Mary Holt Park, as maid of honor, her bridesmaids being Miss Emily Park, of LaGrange; Miss Mary Peoples, of Cartersville; Miss Matilda Upson, of Athens, and Mrs. David Michael of Athens.

Miss Nellie Peters Black Rucker was the junior bridesmaid. Mr. Soule had as his best man his brother, Edward Soule, and his groomsmen were Arthur Griffith, Harris Jones, Hamilton Callaway and Jack Daves, of Atlanta.

Bride's Gown. The bride, who is not only rarely beautiful, but possesses a charm of manner and culture that has made her exceedingly popular in society here and wherever she has visited, was radiantly beautiful in her bridal gown of creamy white satin fashioned severely plain with long sleeves, its straight lines relieved in front by a graceful admixture of plaited georgette, which fell from the waistline to the hem, a drape of exquisite Brussels lace on each side, and a soft fold of the georgette about the low, round neck completing the artistic line of the gown.

This lovely lace was a part of the bride's mother's girlhood wardrobe when, as Miss Mary Belle Wheeler, she was a student at Brown college in Gainesville, and which also was used to embellish a coat of the bride when quite young.

Her long veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and was draped with a fan-shaped arrangement of rare old lace caught below the waistline with a cluster of orange blossoms, the veil entirely covering the lengthy court train confined to her shoulders. The pearls she wore encircled her neck twice and fell to her waist, these jewels being brought from Florence, Italy, by the bride and her mother in 1925 after a year abroad. The bride carried an armful of orchids and valley lilies in a shower reaching to her satin-clad feet.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Murray Soule, on Deering street. Mrs. Lamar Rucker and Mrs. J. C. Hutchins, Sr., received at the door. Mrs. R. O. Barksdale, Mrs. John Meil and Mrs. George Armstrong assisting in extending the courtesies of the occasion.

Among others extending the pleasures of the evening were Miss Virginia Howard, of the Black Cat club, and Miss Eileen Thompson Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Fleming Johnson, of Macon.

RICH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Starring Dulcie Jayné

By VIRGINIA TRACY.

INSTALLMENT LAY.

THE QUEEN COMES BACK.
Lyman broke into a loud, amazed laugh, a laugh which the scenario department, as Miss Frye's department, into its original fold, might well have described as one of ringing scorn.

Facing it from his father's threshold, "Folks," said Lyman, with such good natured, comradely Babbitry that it might almost have had a difficulty in recognizing him, "I'm going to ask you something. Let me put you wise. There's quite a lot depends on what you answer. You readers don't know a thing, do you, about a script that's said to have got mislaid in this office about a month ago? A script called 'The Wild Dove'."

Encouraged by their silence, filled though it was with fluttering hesitations and bewilderments, he added, "Never laid eyes on such a thing, did you? Not any of you?"

The scenario department was only half aware that it was being asked for a pledge to perjure itself. Miss Frye had not been in Miss Jacobs' place long enough to acquaint herself with the terms of the stars' contracts and regale the readers with them; they had no definite knowledge of what a rejected script might mean to Dulcie Jayné.

But, after all, it was not Dulcie Jayné of whom they thought. They were rather more concerned, they were largely intimidated by life and eager to do the best for themselves. But they were, after all, Mr. Horner's scenario department. And so they did not speak. No one disclaimed "The Wild Dove."

Then somebody did speak. "Well, but, Mr. Lyman, I read that script. Why, we all read it! That was Mr. Horner's script."

In a certain courage Lyman was not lacking. At Miss Browne's words his face became very pink, but he did not waver.

"Well, forget it! Fact is," he added, with his new, good fellow laugh, "all I wonder is how you ever remembered it. It wasn't worth your giving a thought to—you can take," jocularly, "your boss' word on that!"

Lyman's glance passed to the right, where Miss Frye, a little flushed, was looking at him. He was in the heart of Miss Frye to breathe tight and keep her mouth shut. It was bedded in the felt of H. Jerome Hubbard's mind that he must smile and look elsewhere, for a man has to mind his own business. But the direct public challenge before him was too much. First H. Jerome Hubbard, his wandering eye meeting Miss Browne's eye, cleared his throat and declared his favorable report. When Miss Frye's eye met his, he had taken his place gave a short, fierce nod of confirmation Miss Frye, breathing tighter than ever, nodded, too. Lyman had lost.

He knew it perfectly well. He knew that he would never be able to take the matter into court. And that some day he would have enough to explain to his father—he who had laid violent and unclean hands on the filing cabinet, on the card index, without having to explain why he had discharged the entire scenario department at a stroke. There was still no reason, however, why he should not discharge one member of it.

Gallantly shaking the integrates' blow out of his eyes, he opened his smile.

"On to what?"

"About the set."

His jaw dropped; the nameless outrage of comprehension began dawning in his face.

"Oh, my dear," proclaimed Dulcie, with candid rapture, to Cornelia, "you can't imagine! They cost Hertzog's a fortune! We never in this world could have afforded them ourselves. And when he threw down the picture Lyman just left them standing in the desert, like the Roman ruins were all ready. We shot those, too, because when we had our fare paid right to him, Henry said it would be a pity not to. A Roman ruin's never made a picture yet, Henry says, but it certainly does add style."

Preserve the Game.

There are a lot of gumps in Atlanta as well as other spots on the globe who try to be "anti-rotarian" as Sinclair Lewis and immediately condemn any movement as the Isaak Walton league. It is not our purpose to defend civic clubs—though we cannot agree with Mr. Lewis' viewpoint on this matter—but we do intend to back the Isaak Walton league to the limit, right or wrong.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the charter meeting of the Atlanta chapter of the Isaak Walton league will be held in the assembly room of the Robert Fulton hotel and the sportsmen of this city should (and we believe will) go about the business of game and fish conservation in the only manner feasible—organized effort.

There seems to be a fallacious idea extant regarding eligibility to the Isaak Walton league and about its activity. The league is NOT confined to fishermen, despite the fact that it gets its name from the ancient and revered English gentleman who is alleged to have confined his sporting activities to bobber snatching.

The purpose of the league is to conserve game through the advocacy of proper legislation; aid in the enforcement of the game and fish laws by organized propaganda; protection of game and fish by refuge work. There is nothing in the league activities which makes it any more an organization for anglers than hunters. In the state of Georgia, where game hunting is as great an activity as fishing, there should be as many as hunters in the membership of the league as fishermen.

One Name Lacking.

There was but one name lacking in the lineup at Spiller's field Thursday to make the alleged game between the Dodgers and Crackers a true comedy of errors. Robert Mantell should have been umpiring. To be sure, Bill Brennan did his best to act the part behind the plate, but one can't expect a class A arbiter to star in Shakespearean company.

It must be said in connection with the above mentioned game of you-boot-it-and-I'll-boot-it, that the Crackers are nothing if not square. Tom Rogers went in and gave the visitors a game of baseball. Then both teams played put and take for a half dozen innings, but the home boys, always the perfect hosts, finally did the last bit of "putting," which was entirely as it should be among gentlemen.

STARTED WITH DETROIT COBB WANTS TO FINISH CAREER WITH CONNIE FINISH WITH MACK-TY

BY TY COBB.

Special Writer, Editor, Feature Service.

(This is the second of a series of articles to appear daily in The Constitution in which Ty Cobb reveals the real story of the troubles of last winter and his desires and plans for the coming season.)

Before I have completed my story I want to talk about Mr. Connie Mack. Until I was invited by Mr. Mack to accept an offer from his ball club I had never known the true character of him.

We had been bitter enemies on the ball field. I gave everything I had to beat his ball club every time we met. We had had only casual talks when we met off the field, but since joining the Athletics, since coming in daily contact with him, I want to say that baseball owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. Mack.

I regret deeply that I did not become associated with Mr. Mack earlier in my career.

I'll break a leg or an arm, I'll do anything to win a ball game for him next summer.

When I signed I heard outsiders say I would be hard to handle and that Mr. Mack would have troubles on his hands with me.

I reported on time for spring training. I have obeyed every rule and regulation of the club and I did something for Mr. Mack I would never have done for anyone else.

We had a ball game with the St. Louis Cardinals at Avon Park, Fla. I had a stiff back, contracting a cold while driving to Fort Myers from my home.

Open gossip was going around that Ty was stuck up this spring and would not play in the early games. For this game at Avon Park the town people had advertised my appearance extensively. I did not know it until we arrived and I was not scheduled to play in the game.

When Mr. Mack found out about the number of people who traveled to Avon Park to see me he asked if I would appear as a batter in the first inning and then retire.

Mr. Mack asked me to do something. I not only appeared as batter in the Crackers Score Three Runs on One Error—Seven Bobs Made by Dodgers As They Win Second Game.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

One lone run managed to get between the Crackers and their tenth straight win at Spiller's field Thursday afternoon when the Brooklyn Dodgers, the most gifted set of booters in the big top, trounced the locals, 11-10.

The Crackers were outbatted by a plurality as big as William Hale Thompson's. They were also outbooted by a plurality that must have been twice that large. So they managed to eke out a one-run sixth-inning, moved it up to two ahead in the eighth and then watched the gifted error makers smack old Portside Pug Cavet for five bases in two hits and score three runs to win in the early part of the ninth.

The characteristic Cracker punch failed to appear in the latter stages of the ninth, and when Brock drew a pass with two down, Clark tightened and Kohlbecker, batting for Cavet, did a Casey to retire the side and remove forever any hope of preserving that long string of wins.

The setto Thursday was as loose as the one Wednesday was tight. The Crackers moved ahead by stages, were barely pulling up, then wheeled to first in time to catch Cueto, even yet.

But he didn't catch him, and neither could Babe Herman catch his throw. If it hadn't been for the fence the ball probably would have hit itself into the front porch of the house of catalogues and bric-a-brac across the street and so while the cawky Babe was doing a Paddyg after the pill, Cavet, Zoeller and Cueto bounded on the rubber for tallies.

Another error admitted the Crackers tallied in the eighth. A potential double play went to the dogs when Schwab was forced at second and Murphy was safe when Coran's grounder came a bad hop in front of the same Mr. Herman and rolled with gusto toward the dugout of the homelins as Cueto, who had singled through the box, went in and rounded down the home stretch to safety.

Don't Miss It.

However, the error of the Babe should not be missed. Babe was rounded in his direction after Rod had been caught at second. The Babe slapped it down, slapped at it a couple of times more and then completely missed it in the baseline somewhere until Miles was safe.

Six flingers were used in the contest. Rogers started for the Crackers, and at the termination of the first good inning he had been yanked to be supplanted by Portside Pug. Pug then steadied the hitting to considerable extent and went the remainder of the distance. Dazzy Vance began. The Crackers immediately pounded him for two safeties, a double and a single.

He was relieved in the second by Barnes who went the ensuing two and one-third. Griffin, who will go to Memphis soon, then went in and after two and two-thirds spasms gave way to Clark who was effective, in a manner of speaking.

NEW RULING ON CONTRACTS FOR FIGHTERS

New York, April 7.—(AP)—A ruling by the state athletic commission on contracts was regarded today as a blow to the popular practice among fight promoters of taking options on the services of boxers.

The commission holds that a contract for a fight is not a contract unless signed by two fighters. It is now figured that Tex Ricard has no contract at all with Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Jack Delaney, Jim Maloney or Jack Sharkey.

If a rival promoter should get the signatures of one of them and an opponent, the other promoter would have the only binding contract in sight.

Well, I'll Be---

Birmingham, Ala., April 7.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby went down to defeat before a freshman cap snatcher from Birmingham Southern college when the Giants met the Senators in an exhibition contest here several days ago. It has just been learned.

While the cap snatching custom is common one among the students of local colleges, it never before had been extended to visiting sport luminaries.

As the game ended, a freshman selected the Giants' uniform cap and set sail up the street. Hornsby took out in pursuit but after a chase of half a mile was outdistanced.

Disgusted the erstwhile Cardinal manager waited a bat at the freshman but missed.

Hornsby later learned that the new owner of his cap is a 10-season dash man.

A famous woman "shot" broke 100 consecutive targets at 15 yards in 1922—the existing trap shooting record.

—and twenty in a row for Piedmont!

Most anybody can crack a target now and then—but how many can hang up a string of consecutive hits?

Piedmont has ranked among the five best sellers for twenty consecutive years—the only brand in history to do it. An amazing demonstration of smokers' untiring preference for straight Virginia tobacco and its distinctive mellow flavor.

Note. With the sole exception, of our celebrated Richmond Straight Cut, Piedmont is the only "Virginia tobacco" cigarette enjoying a national sale.

Stecher-Londos Bout Results in Draw---Joe Keeps Title

Both Get Fall Apiece In Two Hour Match

Londos Gives Champion Stecher One of Hardest Battles He Has Ever Had—Large Crowd on Hand.

BY HERB McCUSKER.

A hundred Atlanta restaurants were demoralized Thursday night by a flying front headlock.

And if you happen to gather your victuals at the corner restaurant, mind well what you order this day.

For there'll be a lot of prominent victuals with other and more important matters on their minds than the mere dealing of a la carte repasts off the arm.

How come?

Jimmie Londos—that chunky, tousleheaded and mahogany-hued Grecian, Londos boy who, believe it or not, didn't start a restaurant, but who elected to wrestle with meat in the raw rather than in the skillet—tussled Joe Stecher, the world's plent-disputed champion, to a dead-heat in the heralded title joust held Thursday night at the auditorium before a packed house.

Stecher Takes First.

Stecher took the first fall after one hour, 16 minutes and 43 seconds with his famous body scissors hold. The crowd growing restless and many spectators started for the exits for a smoke. Apparently, this annoyed the champion, for in his customary manner—hitherto withheld during the evening—he shoved the chunky Greek against the ropes and in a flash applied the constrictor squeeze and pinned Londos' shoulders to the canvas.

When the second session got under

WEISMULLER BREAKS 220 SWIM MARK

Chicago, April 7.—(United News.) Breaking the world's record by four seconds, Johnny Weissmuller of the U. S. A. C. won the 220-yard free style swim in the national A. A. U. swimming meet tonight. The winner's time was 2:10-4.5. George Jojae, Boys club, New York city, was second and Harry Glancy, Penn Athletic club, Philadelphia, placed third.

In the 300-yard individual medley, Walter Laner of the Central Y. M. C. A., Cincinnati, swam a slow race to win in 3:46-4.5. Allen Cross, Erie Y. M. C. A., Erie, Pa., was second and George Cronin, Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., third.

The water polo team wearing the colors of Chicago A. A. retained the championship by winning from New York A. C. 4 to 2. In a preliminary Illinois A. C. won from Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., 18 to 4.

Williams Downs Cavaliers, 10-6

Charlottesville, Va., April 7.—(AP) Williams college defeated Virginia 10 to 6 here this afternoon in a rugged baseball game. The start favored the Cavaliers, but Williams gathered steam as the game progressed and forced Hais to give way to Stephens after three runs had been scored in the sixth and seventh innings. Virginia's poor fielding led to several runs for the visitors, but the Massachusetts aggregation hit well in the pinches.

way, the crowd was for the Grecian aspirant. Time and again Londos held Stecher in the grip of a headlock but each time the champion had either broken the hold or sidled into the neutral ropes and thus gained technical release.

After 37 minutes and eight seconds of mauling, rolling and the usual grimacing, Londos executed a snappy flying front headlock and while the crowd roared hilariously, pinned Stecher's shoulders to the floor.

Tough Struggle.

With only six minutes and 10 seconds to go, the two feature wrestlers struggled furiously for a decision and the crowd was sent home juggling "ifs" to their heart's content.

If Londos had two more minutes—Yes, of course they'll be rematched. Why not?

In the semi-windup, Wladek Zhyzko, former champion and brother to the equally famous Stanislaw, was one too many for Jim Brown. Easily breaking the American's holds, the big Pole did about what he pleased and finally, after 31 minutes and 59 seconds, took the fall with a headlock and clutch.

Yeah, Dick Daviscount won again. What hold did he use to fell the two-headed Jack McCarthy from Chicago? The headlock, to be sure, and it was a mean natured Mr. Daviscount who ended the match in 23 minutes and 38 seconds, after the Irishman from the Windy City had applied all the holds in the book and many others not found in the best of family albums.

Rough Richard met his match in the rough stuff but not in strength, and that was the difference in the match. Everything was all right until the Chicago gentleman made the mistake of slapping the California cave man in the jaw with an open but not gentle hand—that was the last blow of the battle. Richard decided it was time to end the squabble and end it he did amid a chorus of boos and hisses from the fans whom he has taught the meaning of the word hate.

Smithies To Battle Boys' Hi at Spiller's

University To Meet Fulton on Bluebird Field—G. M. A. Plays East Point.

BY BEN COTHMAN.

They're at it again.

It wasn't so long ago that Tech High and Boys' High were squabbling with each other over supremacy in basketball, and the question has now been brought up in baseball.

The Smithies and the Purple have always managed to raise right smart argument, and a tough scrap always ensued.

In order that there will be plenty of room for action the two teams have hired Mr. Red Jackson Spiller's apple orchard to throw rocks in while the Crakers are idle. This afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock will find the two prop teams busily and vociferously engaged.

The age old question of who's best—the Smithies or Boys' High—is not the only thing. Tech High, Boys' High and Fulton High are all in triple tie for second place in the prep standings. And after the game this afternoon, somebody will be in third place.

However, this isn't the only game in the prep league today.

More Games.

U. S. B. king of baseball so far among the prepsters, will be entertaining Fulton on the Bluebird diamond. The end of the game will probably find University's crown right side up. G. M. A. plays a rival from just around the corner, East Point, on the Cadet field. The schedule is rounded out with Commercial and "Artist" locking horns on the Marist diamond.

Picking a winner in the Smithies-Hurricane scrap is about as easy as selling Hell. Jackson Spiller, a bag of peanuts, Boys' High could be leading the league and Tech High making home-base in the cellar, but that wouldn't have a thing to do with a game between the two.

They both have the same record, two wins out of three starts. Boys' High has three veterans, and the Smithies have none. Winn, of the Purple and Pugh, a Smithy, will probably hurl.

Both Confident.

Members of both teams have breathed into this correspondent's ear, confidentially, that the other team was rotten and wouldn't stand a chance. We've heard that before. We've seen games between these two schools before.

About the best explanation of the whole thing was made by Owen Pack, one of the Smithies coaches. "This game will be decided on errors," which is most likely correct.

University will be forced to play its best brand of ball against Fulton High this afternoon. The county team has a number of veterans this year. According to no less an authority than Tubby Walton, Appling, of Fulton, is the best shortstop in the prep league.

G. M. A. should have little trouble in turning back East Point this afternoon. The Cadets have been defeated only by Boys' High, and stopped the Smithies a week ago today. Coach Renz has improved his batters in their hitting, and the G. M. A. fielding has picked up considerably.

Marist and Commercial will be battling on practically even terms, with Commercial favored to win.

Jackets Off For Two Tilts With Auburn

Parham Back in Lineup—Team Is Greatly Improved.

Coach Clay has his Yellow Jacket baseball team all primed for the two-game series with Auburn beginning this afternoon in Montgomery.

Since dropping the last three straight games Kid Clay has been putting his charges through some hard workouts daily. Most of the work-outs have consisted of batting and in-field practices and a couple of scrimmage games with the freshman team.

Moreland and Smith have been clouting the ball to all corners of the lot during this week's practice sessions and Coach Clay believes that they have hit their stride and will continue to clout them for the remainder of the season.

With Parham back in the lineup for the Auburn series the Jacket team will be greatly strengthened in the hitting department. The Jacket team is in high spirits over the coming series with Auburn and was out to take the Tiger nine into camp for a couple of victories.

Auburn has won seven straight victories and has a record of 10-0 in the nine innings of scrimmage. Conn will probably hurl the opening game this afternoon.

Coach Clay and two managers with the following 15 men will leave Friday morning at 6 o'clock from the Terminal station: Wadley, Voeman, McCash, Parham, Angle, Stevens, Brewer, Moreland, Smith, Croxley, Conn, Carney, Chaisson, Gaston, Hill.

FRESHMEN PLAY GORDON TODAY.

While the varsity is in Montgomery struggling with Auburn, the Tech freshmen nine will have troubles of its own. The rats will open a two-game series this afternoon with the Gordon institute team on Garmy Grant field.

This afternoon's game will begin at 4:00 o'clock and Roy Dandorff, rat mentor, will send in a strong lineup against the invaders.

The Gordon team was defeated Thursday afternoon by the Fort McPherson team by the lopsided score of 12 to 2.

Petrels Make It Two In a Row Over Furman

BY ALTON REDEARN.

The Oglethorpe Petrel baseball nine advanced another step toward a fourth S. I. A. A. championship Thursday afternoon when they made it two in a row over the strong Furman university team, the score being 7 to 6.

It was another typical Oglethorpe-Furman game—two teams battling furiously for supremacy and with the outcome always in doubt. Both teams began fighting when the umpire drew out "play ball," and thus began another ball game with both teams unworking excellent offensive attacks, only to be marred with many inexcusable errors.

The outstanding feature of the game was the clouting of two home runs, both coming from the bats of Furman performers. They were both prodigious wallopers. Rawl, Furman captain, hit the first one in the second inning. No one was on base at the time, however. Laney hit one when two runners were on the sacks. The ball was hit over the left field fence.

Holt Walton, Duke Terrell, I. W. Cousins and Earl Shepherd did most of the knocking for the Petrels. Ten of the 12 Oglethorpe hits bounced off the bats of these players. Crawford, Huggins and Dew were the only Furman players to go more than one hit.

Vaughn Hurls Well.

Lindsey Vaughn, pitching his second game for the Petrels, performed brilliantly at times, while on many occasions the Furman batters seemed to find his curves and fast ones with ease. Right batters were retired via the strikeout route.

Furman began the activities in the first inning, scoring one run. The South Carolinians were not content with a one run lead, though, and in the second, pushed another over the platter. The first Furman run was the result of two Petrel errors and a single over short. Two men were down in the second, and when Vaughn threw one down the middle, the next batter, Rawl, hit one to deep center field which was good for a home run.

The Oglethorpeans got going early with their slick work, scoring a run in the first, one in the third and three in the fourth. The first Petrel run was scored by Taliaferro who got on on Rawl's miscue, advancing to second on a wild throw and came home when Terrell singled. Two hits in the third found another Bird crossing the plate.

Two hits, one a double, coupled with two costly Furman errors, were good for three more Petrel runs in the fourth.

The Rally.

The game rocked along from the fourth tier smoothly until the

Loan Is Traced Through Sapiro To Potato Buyer

Detroit, April 7.—(United News).—A patty $2500, loaned to the Idaho Potato Growers' association during its organization four years ago, appeared Thursday as a very important bit of testimony in the million dollar libel suit which Anson Sapiro has brought against the world's only billionnaire.

Crushing his way past numerous objections, Senator James A. Reed forced Sapiro, the cooperative leader, to admit the money had not been loaned by him although a note for it was made out to him.

Money Advanced.
"Who advanced the money?" asked the senator.

"The firm of West-Zuckerman & Co., of Los Angeles," replied the plaintiff.

"What was the money paid by you or by them to the association?"

"By them, I believe."

"Well, was the note made out to you or them?" Reed asked.

"To me."

"You wrote members of the association that you would advance the money, didn't you?"

"Well," Sapiro answered, "I believe my name was used at the suggestion of Mr. Carlson or some of his associates."

Aid in Organization.
Charles J. Carlson, of Idaho Falls; James Pendlebury, of Blackfoot, and L. H. Phillips, of Burley, Idaho, were local officials of the Idaho exchange.

Carlson, who admitted yet to be in court, admitted after this testimony, leaving the subjects of the potato associations in Idaho and Colorado to be finished, and the tobacco and coconut associations yet to be touched before the cross-examination of Sapiro, whom Reed has questioned for nine days, is finished.

Sapiro probably will remain on the stand until the middle of next week, when it is believed the redirect examination will be finished.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE POSSESSION OF THE LOWER MISSISSIPPI WAS OF GREAT MILITARY IMPORTANCE TO THE CONFEDERATES, AS IT CLOSED THE RIVER TO THE COMMERCE OF THE NORTH, WHILE MAKING EASY THE TRANSPORTATION OF MEN AND SUPPLIES FROM TEXAS. THE SECESSION OF LOUISIANA WAS FOLLOWED BY THE SEIZURE OF FEDERAL PROPERTY BY THE STATE GOVERNMENT.

IN JANUARY, 1861, THE LOUISIANA AUTHORITIES TOOK POSSESSION OF THE U. S. ARSENAL AND BARRACKS AT BATON ROUGE AND THE FEDERAL CUSTOM HOUSE AND MINT AT NEW ORLEANS. WITH THE SEIZURE OF THE MINT A GREAT SUM OF MONEY FELL INTO THE HANDS OF THE STATE WHICH WAS LATER TURNED OVER TO THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT.

Hostilities in Louisiana.

FORT LIVINGSTONE WAS SEIZED BY THE SECESSIONISTS AND THE UNION GARRISON ON SHIP ISLAND ABANDONED THE FORTIFICATIONS THERE AFTER SPIKING THE GREAT GUNS AND BURNING GOVERNMENT STORES TO PREVENT THEIR CAPTURE BY THE STATE TROOPS.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE BLOCKADE OF THE MISSISSIPPI HAD BEEN BEGUN BY THE FEDERAL WARSHIP "BROOKLYN" (MAY, 1861), AND LATER A SQUADRON WAS CONTINUALLY ON DUTY OFF THE MOUTHS OF THE RIVER. ON OCT. 4, THE UNION WAR STEAMER "SOUTH CAROLINA" CAPTURED TWO SCHOONERS CARRYING 4,000 STAND OF ARMS FOR THE CONFEDERATES.
